Physician Assistant Program, Little Rock, AR

Master of Physician Assistant Studies, August 2016

Capstone Project:

Comparing efficacy in reduction of symptoms of osteoarthritis (OA) of the knee, and possible regeneration of articular cartilage with the use of stem cell therapy and viscosupplementation treatment modalities. Conducted a systematic review comparing the treatment modalities. Ultimately, I studied which treatment modality could be used most effectively as conventional treatment for OA of the knee. This project was completed in August of 2016.
